

New wallcovering inspired by the feel of wood

Perfect for creating a warm and natural atmosphere

Press Release

Deurne, February 2020

Vescom is introducing two new vinyl wallcovering patterns: Wutai and Corvo. Both are inspired by the feel of wood and give an organic and natural look. Sagara, a timeless Vescom basic, is being reissued in no fewer than 44 colours.

organic bark structure with a matt look

Wutai has a delicate organic bark structure with a dry matt look. In developing this pattern, Vescom's design team drew their inspiration from the natural feel of wood. Wutai creates a natural and warm atmosphere in any room. Available in 14 colours, from very dark charred anthracite to light, warm wood tones.

heavy duty with a rugged structure and a three-dimensional effect

Corvo is also inspired by the natural beauty of wood. This pattern has a rugged structure, and gives an impressive three-dimensional effect on the wall. This 'heavy duty' product is extremely strong and resilient, making it perfect for rooms that are used intensively. The 9 muted wood tones emphasise the remarkable 'natural material' feel.

The organic and sustainable feel of Wutai and Corvo matches Vescom's Tay and Tinos curtain fabrics. These products all reference organic materials and influences from nature, creating a peaceful, harmonious effect.
